Colas

Colas South Africa is a specialist manufacturer and applicator of bituminous binders and slurries for road surfacing. With factories and depots strategically positioned countrywide, our commitment to the entire South African road construction industry is total and unparalleled. Our vision is to be the preferred and safest manufacturer, supplier and applicator of bituminous binders and slurries in the South African road surfacing market. We will achieve this through continuously understanding and exceeding our customers' real needs, engaging and training our people, and developing and applying appropriate technologies. Our greatest asset is our people – a team of committed individuals, recognised as leaders in their field.

VOMM

VOMM, founded in Italy in 1969, is a worldwide leader in the engineering and construction of thermal continuous process plants (drying, ultra concentration, granulation, crystallisation, cooking, kneading, etc.), across different sectors: environmental, food, chemical, oil and gas, and pharmaceutical. VOMM provides tailor-made engineering services for the successful delivery of industrial plants to its clients, leveraging on the flexibility of its own patented technologies, in particular the Turbo Thin Film Technology. The most important application of VOMM Turbo Technology is in the treatment of wastewater and municipal and industrial sludge to produce an alternative fuel in existing cement or waste-to-energy plants, or as an additive for fertilisers and composts. VOMM has successfully delivered more than 150 drying plants in 25 different countries, in some cases following the O&M.
